THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 24 day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

The New York Tribune is working hard for the Blaine boom.

Before Garcelon quit the gubernatorial office he drew five thousand dollars from the treasury to which he had no moral or legal right. He is now called upon to explain why he took it and what he intends to do with the money.

Pennsylvania takes the lead in inaugurating the Blaine boom. Not a single county, which has so far elected delegates to the State Convention, has instructed its delegates not to support any other candidate than Blaine. The State will probably be sold for him in the National Convention.

Mr. J. C. Flood, of San Francisco, one of the richest men on the Pacific slope, has done a handsome thing for his daughter, Miss Jennie, who is a fascinating and accomplished girl of 22. He has caused to be registered in her name $2,500,000 Unit of States four per cent bonds. Her annual income from these bonds will be $100,000.

The candidacy of Seymour, and the flattering compliments Bayard is receiving, do not disturb the Cipher of Gramercy Park. The more they and their friend-talk, the more profoundly silent Tilden becomes. While they are suffering by talking, the former keeps his own counsel quietly draws his maps of the campaign and industriously engages in packing his barrel.

The leading Democratic paper in the State of New York, outside of the city—the Albany Argus—makes a significant threat. It declares, "The Republicans of New York may deprive themselves of the right to vote for electors of President, if they want to, but the Democrats will vote for electors in the old-fashioned way, and the declaration of the popular vote will be sent on in the usual way. If the Republicans want two sets of certificates from this State for a Democratic Congress to pass on, they may go on and have it so."

The Fusionists have lost all hope that they can maintain their bogus Legislature.
Some have gone home disappointed and disgusted, while others hang around Augusta, and seem to find relief in declaring that they will submit the question to the people of Maine next fall. That is just what will be done. The Democrats and Greenbackers will never have another opportunity to organize a Fusion Legislature in that State. There will be no uncertain action on the part of the people at the next election. The Fusion outrage will not go unrebuked. The voice of the people will place the seal of condemnation upon the attempt to defy the laws and to misrepresent the public will.

"Black Friday," which will always be known in the financial history of the United States, came on the 24th of September 1859. The reports of that memorable day, when Wall street was thrown into an intense panic, and rich men became beggars, and the facts are not given. Governor Boutwell was Secretary of the Treasury at the time, and understood perfectly the acts and purposes of the Administration. The merchants of New York had made sympathetic appeals to the authorities at Washington for relief. For some time they were at the mercy of the gold gamblers in New York, and there seemed to be no way of escaping from their clutches. The day before Black Friday, Boutwell decided that it was his duty to grant the merchants relief, and put an end to the desperate work of the gamblers. The gold clique was then a power on Wall street, and threatened to greatly disturb the entire business interests of the country. It was ascertained that the Treasury department that the gold ring could not exist except by means of certification of checks through the banks where the leaders of the ring did their business. On certain days from 11 to 12 o'clock, these checks were certified, when the makers of them really had no gold to their credit, and hence were illegally transacting business. Boutwell at once decided to stop this, and for this purpose he secured three of the most accomplished banking and book-keeping experts of the Treasury, to go to New York by night, and remain there constantly to notify the cashier that he should inform them of the certification of every check, and the moment that the credit of any deposit was exhausted to cease to certify a check. The experts obeyed their instructions, and at once the power of the gamblers to lock up gold came to an end. And right on the heels of this piece of strategy, Boutwell suggested that the Government sell three millions of gold. President Grant said, "make it five millions." But four millions were only sold, and this threw Wall street into an excited condition which will ever make the day historic. Men became frantic with rage and wild with disappointment.

Gold opened at 133 in the morning and flew up to 162½ before noon. This excellent piece of strategy on the part of the Government had its desired effect. The gold gamblers did not meet for four days, and in fact the desperate ring was effectually broken.

These facts are given regarding that exciting day because the subject is receiving fresh discussion, and Governor Boutwell has seen fit to tell the true story about it.

FROM MADISON.

Special to the Gazette.
MADISON, Jan. 27.—Senator Price reports satisfactory progress in settling up the estate of D. J. Spaulding, of Black River Falls, of which he is the assignee. The liabilities are now figured up to be about three hundred and eighty thousand dollars, and if the assignee is allowed time enough, all will be paid and leave a handsome balance for Mr. Spaulding. The assets are principally thousands of acres of pine timbered land, and Price thinks that a proper settlement of the estate will occupy two years.

MAINE.

The Excitement Quieting Down—The Supreme Court—The Republican Programme.

Boston, Jan. 26.—The Herald's August special says the Supreme Court will, a Bangor, decide upon the advisability of considering the Fusionist statement.

The Fusion Senate met with seven members this morning, and took a recess until 4 o'clock.
The Republican programme as outlined this morning is, after hearing what the supreme court has to say regarding the Fusionist statement, to have the Governor issue a proclamation commanding the dispersal of the Fusionist Government, and if any one persists in exercising administrative or legislative functions to arrest him immediately. Probably the Governor will give the Fusionists not over twenty-four hours' warning.

The Fusionists appear to have entirely lost heart, and now only talk of an appeal to the people at the polls next autumn.
It is expected that Wednesday will see the last of the dual government in Maine.
It is reported that the Fusionists employed the great seal of the State to authenticate their document sent to the Court at Bangor.

AUGUSTA, Maine, Jan. 26.—The House met at 11 o'clock. The Senate is not in session.
The Speaker read a communication from the Governor transmitting a congratulatory resolution from the Legislature of Wisconsin, and presented an order providing for a joint special committee to investigate in regard to taking the seal and records.

The House transacted but little business, and adjourned until 4 p. m.
Both branches of the Republican Legislature to-day passed resolutions providing for a constitutional amendment electing the Governor by a plurality instead of a majority vote.

The Senate appointed Committees on investigation, enlists and enrolls of men, and on loss of State seal.

The Fusion Senate met at 10 o'clock, and took a recess till 4 this afternoon. At 4 o'clock both branches assembled and adjourned until to-morrow. They are feeling quite comfortable on account of the Judges having gone to Bangor to assemble. Most of their men returned today and will remain till after the decision.

PRESIDENTIAL.

A Sherman Movement Starting at Cincinnati.

COLUMBUS, Jan. 26.—The effect of the organization of a Blaine Club in this city by the stalwart Republicans has already shown itself by bringing the friends of Secretary Sherman into active training in his interest. A call signed by over 200 of the leading citizens, business men, manufacturers, and bankers will be issued tomorrow calling a convention of his friends throughout the State to assemble in this city two weeks hence with a view of organizing clubs in the Secretary's interest in the State. The call, emanating as it does from capitalists and friends of the Administration, is regarded as the preliminary move toward placing the Ohio delegate to the National Convention sold for Mr. Sherman. The friends of the Secretary are decidedly jubilant, and a gathering similar to a State Convention is anticipated.

HAYDEN RELEASED.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 26.—Rev. P.
H. Hayden was released from the county jail at 1:15 p. m. He was taken to the office of the clerk of the superior court by Mr. Birdseye, in the absence of Sheriff Bixby. Outside the jail door were several persons, who, on seeing him come out, said, "Good by, Mr. Hayden." Hayden responded, "I may have to come back again." The amount of bail was fixed at $5,000. When this was furnished, Messrs. Watson & Hubbard, Hayden's counsel, being bound-men, Hayden's father called a hack and went back to the hotel with his son. Several articles were hastily bundled up, and when Hayden shook hands with the prison officials thanking them for their kind treatment, and was driven away from the jail. Hayden is now with his wife at the house of his friend Bronson, where they will probably remain for a few days.

ROASTED ON RED RIVER.

Burning of a Cotton-Carrying Steamer, Involving the Loss of Eight Lives.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 26.—At 11 o'clock on Sunday morning the Red River Transportation line packet steamer caught fire while on her down trip, and was burned to the water's edge, fifteen miles above the Red river wharf-boat, near Bayou Sara, Louisiana. The boat was a total loss, and besides her cargo eight lives were lost in the flames. The news of the disaster came in a dispatch to Captain Aiken, as follows:
BAYOU SARA, Jan. 26.—J. A. Aiken, 46 years old, the steamer, Charmer sunk yesterday at 11:30 a. m., fifteen miles above the Red River wharf boat.
The boat and cargo are a total loss, and eight lives were lost as follows: Two cabin boys, two cooks, two cabin boys, one fireman and one sailor. The balance of the crew and passengers are on the steamer Alexandria. The boat had 2,100 bales of cotton.

NOAH GREEN, Master.
The Charmer was an elegant steamer, and was on her fourth trip in the Red river trade. She was worth $32,000, and was owned one-half by Captain Scovell, and the other half, respectively, by Captains C. P. Trueslow and Charles W.
Drown. She was insured in Cincinnati companies for $18,000. At 12 o'clock tonight no further details had been received.

the Navy, and confirmed it by a vote of 23 against 8.

STATISTICS OF WEALTH.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—General Walker to-day appointed Robert P. Porter, of the Chicago Inter Ocean editorial staff, special agent to take charge of the collection of the statistics of wealth, debt, and taxation for the tenth census. If Mr. Porter accepts the position he will have to make this city his headquarters, and travelling from here as a central point so far as may be found necessary. The department will afford him the means and facilities for pursuing his investigation which the appropriations for the general expense of the census will justify.

CHANDLER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Senator Perry gave notice to-day that the Chandler of the train. He leaves a wife and four children. A coroner's inquest was held this afternoon, and brought in a verdict of accidental death.

QUEER.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 26.—The County Court indicted for embezzling $100,000, had been arrested, and his office declared vacant by the Supreme Court.

EDISON'S LIGHT.

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—A large number of Edison's glass globes, containing lights that have been burning from two hundred to four hundred hours, have been found to be cracked where the wires pierce the glass, and have been taken down. Their places have been filled with the new lamps, none of which have yet cracked, and Edison said to-night he didn't believe they would crack at all. He has now eighty-two lights aglow in the circuit.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Special to the Gazette.
IN THE ASSEMBLY.

MADISON, Jan. 27.—In the assembly this morning remonstrances were received from over four thousand physicians and adruggists throughout the State, against the passage of the medical bill. Mr. Bentley offered a memorial to Congress asking that the general government reimburse to the city of Milwaukee, three hundred and forty thousand dollars spent in making harbor improvements of that, which was properly within the province of the United States; also to make appropriation for the construction of a harbor of refuge at Milwaukee. The principal bills introduced were by Bonston, to make legal rate of interest six per cent; by Eckhardt, reducing sheriff's fees on sales of property on execution; by S. C. Williams, providing that saloon licenses be used to support local poor; by Barnes requiring villages if they desire to raise tax of more than one-quarter of one per cent, to submit the question to electors.

The bill to repeal the tramp law of last year was killed in the Senate.

Bills were introduced by Paul, to annex Bay View to Milwaukee; by Hyland, relating to acquisition of land by eminent domain; by Fifield, for protection of brook trout in Wisconsin.

The Governor in his message reported the number of pardons granted last year from State Prison, ten; House of Correction nine; County jails, nine.

Both Houses adjourned till morning.

POMEROY'S LEAGUE.

PORTLAND, Maine, Jan. 26.—The President to-morrow will publish the expose of the formation of circles of the "Brick Pomeroy League" in Maine, with the State circle devoted to communistic doctrines, and now employed in endeavors to seize the State Government. There are five circles known in Cumberland, and some in York, Knox, and other counties. This organization is managed by the advanced leaders of the Greenback party, and the mass of that party are still ignorant of their existence.

JAILED HIS SON.

MANITOWOC, Jan. 26.—Thomas and Wm.
Daggery, of the town of Maple Grove, this county, were arrested to-day on a peace warrant sworn out by their father, Thomas and William are hard citizens, and have it alleged, on several occasions, been threatened to take the old man's life. The hearing was adjourned, and the prisoners in default of bail, remanded to jail.

CENTENARIAN.

Dubuque, Iowa, Jan. 26.—Mrs. Rose Mc Mahon, a lady aged 100 years, died to-day.
She was the oldest woman in the State.

FASHION NOTES.

Curls drooping from the back of coffures are revived.
Medium shades of wood color and gray are revived for kid gloves.
Creamy white bonnets are more worn than any other for full dress.
Tulle is the fashionable diaphanous fabric this winter for ball dresses.

Young ladies who dance wear short dresses escaping the floor all around.
Cashmere colors appear in the trimmings of many handsome winter bonnets.
Loops of braids at the back of the head are giving place to loose fluffy curls.

Ruches, ruffles, and fraises in the neck are more fashionable than linen collars.
The new spring goods will be brocade in armure and small moyen age patterns.
Young ladies wear their corsage bouquets on one side of the neck, near the shoulder.

White jet and white Spanish lace appear to be favorite decorations of white dress bonnets.

Gold thread traceries around the designs of white Spanish laces appear on late importations.

White silk and white gauze form the composition of many elegant evening dresses this season.

Cendrillon is a new gauze material heavily wrought with gold or silver thread, for ball dresses.

Handsome jetted bonnets are worn with carriage, reception, church, and full dress promenade toilets.

Small Japanese fans with long handles are more fashionable than large fans with short handles.

Young girls wear waistcoats of some bright silk and wool mixtures with gray or brown or drab beige suits.

Dahlias of variegated colors will be worn as spring advances, both as bouquet decorations and corsage flowers.
Tulle dresses looped with sprays of apple blossoms, rosebuds, or daisies, make the most effective ball dresses for young girls.

Large scoop front Director bonnets, of plata or fuffy felt, are picturesque and stylish, but they make any face look needlessly older.
White satin duchesse and white satin antique, which is only another name for silk plush, compose a large number of white bonnets.
New silk handkerchiefs for the neck are in pale shades of blue and rose, and edged with pleatings of Breton, Languedoc or Val encienness laces.

The novelty destined to the greatest popularity in fancy spring goods, is the printed India cashmere, in small, multicolored pine patterns over a light ground.
Snoods, simple ribbons passed through the hair and knotted at the side with pen-dant ends, are revived. They are in the richest Oriental colors, and finished at the ends with gold fringe or tassels.

SHEFFIELD RAZOR MAKERS.

The Yorkshire Cutlers Who Have Settled in Connecticut—American Goods Made with Sheffield Tools by Men from Sheffield.

"We are going to make Sheffield knives, scissors and razors in Bridgeport—that is the long and short of it," said Mr. George Manby, foreman, with his pleasant Yorkshire accent. "We brought to Bridgeport every tool from our Sheffield shop, and we have brought one hundred and thirty of the men who were making the best fine cutlery in the world. There are two things we could not bring. These are the Sheffield shop building and Sheffield air. But I don't believe they are necessary to the making of a good blade. There is an emotion held by some that Sheffield water is better for tempering steel than other water. I don't believe it; but in order that nothing whatsoever should be lacking, and that we might say with truth that our goods were made under conditions absolutely the same as the goods we formerly made in our Sheffield shop, I brought some water with us. In England we found that the water drawn from the branch, (you call it hydrant here) was not quite so good for tempering as that which had been frequently used. We therefore never used fresh water, except occasionally when it was necessary to add a bucketful to make up for the waste by evaporation. We brought over all of the water which we have been using. The strips of steel out of which the blades will be hammered by our forgers will be imported from the same Sheffield mills from which the Sheffield cutler obtains theirs.

"Wherein is the skill of the workmen peculiarly required in the making of a razor or a straight razor?"

"From first to last," replied Mr. Manby, "the longer will take up a strip of steel in one hand, and with his hammer in the other will fashion a blade with the aid of his eye alone the precise length and width required. He will allow for the amount taken off by the subsequent grinding and polishing of the back, and for that taken off the grinding. If his work is not perfect the grinder finds it out. It is impossible to grind a blade so that the edge shall be straight if it has not been hammered into perfect form. If it has been hammered too much, the grinder will make that part of the edge hollow. Before the longer passes a blade to the grinders, he heats it, and when it has cooled to a berry blue he thrusts it into the water to temper it. Much skill is required to recognize exactly the right tint at which the steel must be put into the water. To grind the razors concave, stones of various diameters are used. There is no machinery used except that for the turning of the stones, yet the razors are ground into shape with wonderful exactness. They are then set into the handles of pressed bulldog horn tips and polished in oil. Finally they are wiped dry of oil, in readiness for the ware house. There might be scratches on a razor from the grinding, which you could not discover with your eyes, yet this lady (introducing an intelligent, neatly dressed young English woman) would discover its presence instantly on passing a rag over it to wipe it."—New same service.

A GEORGIA LAWYER'S FEES.

The most lucrative special practice by a Georgia lawyer for a short time was by Judge Lochrane, just at the close of the war. He had gone to Washington with several lawyers, on the way to New York.
While in Washington the amnesty proclamation was issued. It was necessary for all men who were worth over $30,000 to make some sort of special application.
Judge Lochrane quickly went to Attorney General Speed, and asked him for the exact form in which these applications should be made. This schedule he submitted to Secretary Seward, and had it approved, and to President Johnson, and had it approved. He then hurried back to Georgia and opened an office at Macon for the pardon business. Applications poured in upon him. His usual fee was $500, but he procured a great many for nothing, and others for reduced fees. In a short time he went to Washington, stayed a week or ten days, and returned with amnesty papers.
On these he collected $35,000. Judge Lochrane is now attorney for the Pullman pa-car company, at a salary, it is said, of $10,000 per annum.

From a Distinguished Physician.

Prof. Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Record of Atlanta, Ga., to the effect that after all other means had failed, he sent for the Kidney Cure, (Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterwards found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for kidney disorders.

—Charlie Patterson and Henry Murphy are engaged for character songs at the entertainment at Lappin's Music Hall, February 10th.

—The singers who are to take part in the Bower City Band concert next Monday night are: Constance, and expect to be present at the appointed time, and in good voice.

—There is to be a grand ball under the auspices of St. Joseph's choir in Union hall, Edgerton, Tuesday evening, February 3. Tuckwood's band is to furnish the music.

—C. H. Voorhees, of Cedar Rapids, is making a short visit with his many friends and called last evening at the Gazette office. He is well pleased with his new home and says business is booming. He is accompanied by Mrs. Voorhees.

—One lonely, lonesome soul of a tramp wandered into the jail last night. They begin to appear now hunting for work since that there are no sidewalks to clean off. Cleaning the mud off the pavements might furnish employment to them.

—At a meeting of the directors of the Janesville Cotton Manufacturing Company last evening, the following officers were elected for another year: President, W. A. Lawrence; Vice President, J. J. R. Pease; Treasurer, F. S. Eldred; Secretary, A. J. Ray.

—Rev. H. Faville is to go to Appleton to-morrow to deliver a sermon next Thursday, before Lawrence University, it being the day of prayer for colleges. Under a new arrangement these annual sermons are to be delivered by alumni of the University, of whom Mr. Faville is one.

—All who want to have a truly enjoyable evening should attend the Temple of Honor or dance this evening. The tickets are only fifty cents. The floor will be elegant, the music fine, the company jolly, in fact everything will be just right for a happy time. The members and friends of the Temple should gladly improve this chance to enjoy themselves.

—There having been a good deal of annoyance caused by the daily gathering of cows in the vicinity of the hay press Marshall Russell desires through the Gazette to give due notice to the owners of said cows to take care of them at once. Otherwise he will pound them, that is, the cows. Cow owners would do well to heed this warning, for business is meant and costs can be saved by shutting up the cows.

—In the Circuit Court the decision in the Feltz divorce case is withheld, to allow time for the parties concerned to see if they can not arrange their matters satisfactorily. The case of Bullock vs. The Chicago & Northwestern railroad and the Rock River Paper Company was taken up, it being a claim for damages on account of a railroad track leading to the paper mill and encroaching upon the plaintiff's land.

—What is a kettle drum? We have heard several enquire of late, and for their benefit would cite Harper's Bazaar—"A kettle drum is usually a simple affair, tea and biscuits being served from tables in the drawing room." The ladies alone gather at such a party. But why call them kettle drums? Some one, whose name has been lost to fame, has explained it by saying that it has no allusion to the unmusical martial instrument, but to the fact that the teakettle forms the basis of the tea party, and that the guests gather in circles like a drumhead, and keep up a lively noise with their tongues. A good kettle drum is hard to beat. Perhaps that's another reason.

—The painting of Melrose Abbey which is on exhibition at Kings bookstore still attracts the attention of all who enter there, and the public does not seem to weary of it. It has called forth much praise for the artist Mrs. Dr. Judd, and deservedly so, for it is a gem. The subject is a difficult one but in perspective and shading it has been wonderfully depicted, so that its merits attract even the eye not given to art, while to those who delight in the work of the easel and the brush, it is indeed a thing of joy. It is truly a work of art, and reflects much credit upon Mrs. Judd. It has been pronounced by critics one of the best pieces in the city, and it surely merits such praise.

—NO MATERIAL CHANGE.
Mr. Robbins remains about the same to-day as yesterday, there being no material change in his condition. His mind wanders a little at times, which is not a good indication, but still is not an alarming one, considering his situation.

—ASTOR HOUSE, NEW YORK, best accommodations, reduced prices.

—COOKSVILLE CONCERT POSTPONED.
The concert announced to take place at Cooksville under the management of Warren Collins, has been postponed, owing to the illness of Mrs. Conrad and Mrs. St. John, who on account of colds are out of voice, and owing to the absence of others who were to take part in the entertainment. The next date will be duly announced.

BURNS' BIRTHDAY.

How it was Merrily Observed by a Gathering of Friends Last Evening.

Yesterday being the one hundred and twenty-first anniversary of the birthday of Robert Burns, the great Scotch poet, a happy observance was made last evening at the residence of Captain J. J. Boyd in the Fourth ward, where were gathered by invitation upwards of fifty sons and daughters of old Scotland, and American lovers of Burns. The company were received and cared for in a truly hospitable and heartily cordial manner by the host and hostess, and the evening was most happily spent. Mrs. Boyd spread a sumptuous and tempting supper, and after all had partaken, the hours were given over to music, songs, recitations and chit-chat.

Mrs. Day, who is an excellent dialect reader, gave several Scotch selections, among them being the world-famed "A man's man for all that." Mr. Matthew Patterson recited "Tam O'Shanter" and other of Burns best pieces. Scotch songs were interspersed, and the Misses Hodge gave some instrumental pieces in which the Scotch airs were prominent. There was no stiff formality to the affair but each seemed willing to add a part to the entertainment, and thus the recitations and songs were interspersed with friendly converse, and the hours were brimming full and running over with such true enjoyment as the Scotch hearts can so well appreciate. Thus "With song, chat and clatter went on fast and furious,"

Till the wee sma' hours beyond the twelve." When the whole company joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne" in the original style, all circling about and joining hands across in a cordial grasp of mutual friendship. The evening was truly a happy one to all who participated. One thing was markedly noticeable. The success and enjoyment of the gathering demonstrated clearly that Scotchmen can enjoy themselves and have a jolly good time without "the mountain dew." Captain Boyd is an enthusiastic Scotchman, and wherever he makes his home he always seeks out an acquaintance with his brother Scotchmen, and always affiliates with their societies, where ever they have any. To him is largely due the enjoyment of last evening.

NOTICE: NOTICE:

We desire to again call the attention of our readers to the great sale of Short Horn and Cattle and horses belonging to Ogilvie & Curtis and W. C. Kiser, which is elsewhere announced in this paper, to take place at the Capital house stables in Madison, Wis., on Thursday, February 5. This is undoubtedly the most important sale of blooded stock ever held in Wisconsin, if not in the Western States, the stock included in the sale offerings are not only fashionably bred, but are among the most famous show animals on the continent. In competition with the best horses and cattle of all breeds in the Western States, at great fairs like those of Minneapolis and St. Paul, in Minnesota, and Madison and Oshkosh, in Wisconsin, the Short Horn herds from which the cattle offered for sale have been selected, have taken twenty-two first prizes; eighteen second; six first herd prizes, and three second; four first sweepstakes, and three second. The horses shown at the same places, barring Oshkosh, have taken fifty-two first premiums; thirteen second; and five grand sweepstakes; these are show records which have not been drawn at county fairs, but at the largest and most extensively attended fairs in the Western States, during the years 1878 and 1879. Those who admire fancy stock, whether intending to buy or not, should not fail to attend this great sale.

KATE THAYER NOT COMING.

The manager of the Kate Thayer concert troupe writes from Kansas City, that owing to adverse circumstances he is obliged to close the season there in order to save himself, and has therefore decided to cancel his engagement here and at other points. The concert expected to take place next week is therefore declared off. This will prove a disappointment to many, but then the music lovers can console themselves with the fact that there is to be a good concert Monday night to make up the week's enjoyment.

THAT LINEN WEDDING.

LIMA CENTER, Jan. 26.—I have been requested to send you something in regard to the "Linen Wedding" which took place at the residence of Mr. Robert Bacon, on a mile south of this village, on Friday evening, January 23. The origin of some wedding and the reasons for the same may perhaps be plain, but why celebrating the completion of the thirty-fifth year of married life should be designated as a "Linen Wedding" is not quite so apparent. Suffice it to say, however, that the event in this instance was celebrated in a most agreeable manner, notwithstanding the very unfavorable state of the roads, which, without doubt, kept many of the invited guests at home. The affair was intended as it really proved to be, a complete surprise to the respected host and hostess, who had purposely been invited out for the evening, to visit with friends from Milton at the residence of their daughter, Mrs. G. A. Warren. A crowd of people numbering nearly one hundred, "be the same more or less," having taken possession of their house, Mr. and Mrs. Bacon were sent for as relatives had arrived to visit with them, and no thought or suspicion of the true state of affairs entered their minds until they arrived at home. Hand-shakings, congratulations and general sociability occupied the time until the tables were spread with the contents of sundry baskets, parcels, &c., and the guests being seated, Mr. James Hull, in a few well chosen remarks, presented to the surprised couple one dozen linen napkins, with the congratulations of Dr. and Mrs. Borden, of Milton; one dozen linen napkins, of a new and unique design, with the compliments of J. M. Bostwick, Esq., of Janesville; a finely designed toilet set, from Mrs. McCracken and daughter, of Milton. An elaborately worked tidy, from Mr. and Mrs. David Cross, of Janesville; one dozen finest table napkins, collars, cuffs, handkerchiefs, &c., with the bestregards of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Warren, and Messrs D. C. and O. J. Bacon; four and a half yards of fine table linen, and a very beautiful linen bed spread, with the best wishes of friends, too numerous to mention, asking them to accept the same as a slight testimonial of the esteem, respect, and affection felt for them by their neighbors and friends. Mr. Bacon's reply (and I much regret that I cannot give his own words) was expressive of heartfelt thankfulness. He did not know he had so many friends and this demonstration of their friendship brought them nearer and made them dearer to his heart than ever before. Their offerings were accepted and when looked upon in after years the donor would be kindly remembered not so much on account of the intrinsic value of these articles but for the kind associations and memories which would be revived thereby. He spoke of the time of his first arrival in this town. Of the neighbors and friends he then met and of the very few of them living to-day. Of the life struggles of himself and the portion of his joys and sorrows resulting in their present circumstances and of their determinations for the future. Closing by giving Somebody credit for fooling him most completely. Mrs. Bacon also briefly thanked one and all for their kindness. War was then declared against the estates the result of which was fully satisfactory to the assistants. Some one in the crowd now called on Mr. Hull for a toast, to which that gentleman responded as follows: "Brother Robert Bacon and Wife:—You are growing old; your heads are whitening for another clime; but struggle on together up and up the rugged path of life—perchance you may arrive at your golden wedding, and still farther on the centennial year of your married life."

CITY NOTICES.

P. S.—Mr. B. heartily thanks those, whom unforseen circumstances kept from being present on the occasion, for their kind intentions.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

To the Editor.
Allow me, through the medium of your paper, to express my heartfelt thanks to the teachers of Rock county who presented me, (by the hands of Miss Maggie C. Mount), with a very beautiful ice pitcher.

Knowing, as I do, the very important manner in which the duties of Superintendent were performed during my terms of office, I feel conscious that I merit no such special token of appreciation or kind regard from those who have labored so faithfully under my supervision. I shall nevertheless prize the gift very highly, not only for its intrinsic value, but more especially for the hearty good will, which I am sure, prompted it. Again, I say thanks.

Very truly yours,
J. B. TRACY.
